Pumping the token

Pump token is born with the idea of creating a fast profiting token, we aim to create a strong community that can be well organized to set specific dates which we all will be buying PMP tokens in order to increase the price until we reach our previously set up target price, when reached, we can sell, profit, and buy again.

A well planned Pump and Dump.

Pumping Projects

Our team believes that there are a lot of great ideas lost in the crypto universe due to the lack of money, knowledge and help. With our token we want to help growing projects setting up a platform in which people with new ideas can benefit from us in different ways, through marketing, being featured on our website and if qualified we will also help with the economic development of the project.

Introduction

Why pump token?

Introduction

Last year was full of ICOs and we saw all kinds of projects, some of them with great new features and some of them almost none or just none, and lots and lots of scam. With PUMPTOKEN we want to create an organized community that will be able to set up dates for everyone to buy the token until get reached the price goal, this way we can profit and then be free to sell until we get ready for the next pump, with a well planned pump and dump we can create a token that will help a lot of people profit fast, so yes you are still on time to earn money in the crypto world.

After coming up with the idea of the token we also asked ourselves what else we can use this token for? Well we will create a platform in which we will help early projects evolve, we want to help those who have great blockchain projects get part of what they need to success. And PUMPTOKEN being an ERC20 token it can also be used as a decentralized payment method with fast transactions and low fees.

We are also not doing an ICO but a presale event for early investors who would like to have tokens before listing on exchanges, and also to help with gas fees when sending all the tokens, however, we are having a big airdrop and bounties so you can get your tokens for free if you don't feel like buying.

Objectives

The organized pump

Social media moves tons of people and ideas over the internet, if realize that holding the coins during the pump dates they can actually profit fast after the pump people can sell which will decrease the price to a point in which we can set up the next pump again, with a strong community following us on Telegram we will set up the specific dates for buying and for selling, good communication is key for a well organized crypto community.

Objectives

Pumping projects

When developing our project we realized of all the things and steps needed when creating a token, now imagine a complicated blockchain project? We will create a platform in which we want to help and promote new projects so we all can grow mutually for a better crypto environment.

● Custom wallet

We want to create a safe wallet in which you can easily send and receive your PMP as well as converting them to other cryptocurrencies

Everyone should be able to profit from cryptos is not too late!

Advantages of Pump Token

Fast

PMP transactions occur within the Ethereum network, a transaction usually takes 24 seconds

Secure

As long as you keep control of your private keys you are the only in control of your funds on your wallet.

Decentralized

Unlike many financial institutions with PUMPTOKEN you are the one in charge, no central banking.

Airdrop

We are doing a giveaway so that anyone can be part of this project, we don't want your money we want your help to build a strong community.

Simple

Simple but strong, our name and goal is simple, pump, and no matter how simple it looks, a strong community is capable of everything

Open source

There is nothing to hide if we want a strong community we must be transparent, you are free to take a look at our source code.

Airdrop

● Airdrop

○ We will be airdropping to the first 10,000 helpers, which will be receiving 250 free PMP to participate you have to:
